

A peer review is important for knowledge making because most of the time we do not realize the mistakes we make in our own work since we are the ones doing it and is better when we hear a second opinion from our classmates who help us to check some important aspects such as spelling, grammar or punctuation .It is important to correct our academic works to ensure that they make a good impression on the reader and their quality is appropriate for level of our studies.

I agree with your statement because a peer review does allow the writer to get advice from the reader's perspective so we can check some aspects such as spelling, grammar or punctuation for our text to be coherent and professional. A second opinion from another student helps us to avoid mistakes and be sure that our text meets all academic language requirements.

I agree with your statement because just as you said “We all have different ideas”and others ideas can be helpful for us to improve our writing and meet all the academic language requirements for the class. A peer review is an important tool for learning and a Regular use of these practices would help students to improve concentration and promote autonomy in the acquisition of knowledge.
